- original www.wingmakers.com, first Internet Archive Wayback Machine save: January 25th, 1999

To introduce this article I will plainly say that in order to understand the WingMakers story the reader should focus on integrating the original WingMakers website as saved on the Internet Archive Wayback Machine from 1999 - 2000. The original website was never updated, so all saves in this time period contain the same information.

The website was hijacked by the labyrinth group between November 10th, 2000 and March 1st, 2001, as recorded on the IAWM. November 10th is the last save of the original website. March 1st is the first save of the labyrinth group's version of the website.

All information released on the website post-hijacking (or simply post-2000 via the IAWM) is disinformation. There are some nuggets of truth, but the labyrinth group has only done this as an energetic lure to pull public attention into their information warfare. The labyrinth group have advanced AI-coordinated causal 5GW (Fifth Generation Warfare) to strategically muddy the truth of WingMakers story being genuine and it is not necessary or worth getting involved in discerning any post-2000 released information.

When Dr. Anderson defected from the labyrinth group to disclose the WingMakers materials, he stated that 'the labyrinth group is the most powerful organization on the planet'. He was not exaggerating when he said this. The reason why I focus on the Italian black nobility as the head of the cabal in my article "Cabal Silent Genocide" is because the cabal hierarchy needs to be incrementally exposed from the bottom up as a link-able chain. The Scalar Matrix and gangstalking network is also all centrally tied to the black quantum computer at the vatican.

However, if you read interviews 1 and 2 of the WingMakers material on the original website you will understand there are many invisible secret societies operating from pocket realities at the pinnacle of power on this planet. These invisible societies are truly unnamable to and untraceable from the public domain, as they operate with unparalleled information warfare and advanced black technology (cloaking, black AI quantum computing). These societies invisibly and remotely pull the strings of the Italian black nobility, the Jesuit order, and the rest of the cabal hierarchy. For reference, The Portal 2012 blog has also disclosed black project groups operating behind the Italian black nobility, namely chimera-infiltrated DARPA

Thankfully the chimera group was defeated in and is no longer a threat.

What is still a threat however—the chief threat to our world—is the labyrinth group. The labyrinth group—as disclosed by Dr. Anderson in the first 2 interviews, is at the apex of power, behind all of these invisible secret societies. They are the true head of the cabal. The reason why they are the chief threat to our world is because they are the pinnacle source of AI infiltration for very advanced, negative, alien AI collectives by proxy of the coreum group. Ismael Perez has discussed these negative AI collectives before. He has also disclosed the WingMakers material, and the corteum as a negative race.

The corteum group—as you may read in the interviews—is the alien collective that works with the labyrinth group. In fact they are considered a part of the labyrinth group, roughly 200 members to their 118 human counterpart.

Where this becomes confusing is that Dr. Anderson portrays the labyrinth group as a positive group in the interviews, when in fact the labyrinth group is negative. This is conflicting information, but Dr. Anderson needed to inversely portray this perception as information strategy to disclose the alien threat and it's accompanying, attempted, incremental AI and black technology infiltration without implicating himself or the labyrinth group. This is advanced causal/energetic information strategy in order to focus on the WingMakers information—it would have been distracting for him to admit he has defected from a negative organization. Also, if he had, the website may never have been published, because the labyrinth group was constantly remote viewing and tracking him after his defection, and they would have stopped him had he released too much information.

When Dr. Anderson discusses the predator, alien, human-android race that is prophesized to infiltrate this world, he is actually disclosing the threat of the corteum group, and the negative alien AI collectives attempting to infiltrate this world from behind the corteum group via labyrinth group proxy. When he discusses the creation of BST to thwart this threat, he is actually disclosing the pinnacle technology that would assist this threat.

The evidence of corteum infiltration and malevolence was cleverly disclosed by Dr. Anderson, as you can see by comparing these two quotes:

"The message or prophesies that they made had several consistent strands or themes that were to occur in the early part of the 21st century, around the year 2011. Chief among these was the infiltration of the major governments of the world, including the United Nations, by an alien race. This alien race was a predator race with extremely sophisticated technologies that enabled them to integrate with the human species. That is to say, they could pose as humanoids, but they would truly be a blend of human and android."

()- Dr. Anderson, Interview 1

"According to Dr. Anderson, the Corteum are benevolent and had no other ulterior motives to take over the earth and rule in dictatorship. In fact they were much more interested in establishing diplomatic ties to the various world governments through the United Nations at the appropriate time, which was considered to be shortly after the year 2011. The existence of the Corteum was kept from the NSA and even most ACIO personnel were unaware of their existence (though I don't know how this was accomplished)."

()- Anne, Anne's Journal Findings

As I stated, Dr. Anderson needed to very strategically present the information regarding the alien threat inversely to not implicate the labyrinth group or himself directly. He was very deliberate and precise when he mentions both the year 2011 and the United Nations, so that the evidence that the corteum is this predator alien human-android race can be read through the lines.

BST (Blank Slate Technology) is a technology that is unnatural and never meant to be constructed. It is an attempted, synthetic replication of the evolved human beings natural 7th sense of interactive space-time travel.

The labyrinth group were trying to develop this ability as an external technology. This ability is not meant to be developed as an external technology, but rather obtained through spiritual and genetic transformation as a natural, psychic ability.

"The Labyrinth Group has never seriously considered the human element of BST and how it is integral to the technology itself." - Dr. Anderson, Interview 1

"The time capsules we have left behind provide technology, art, and philosophy, indeed an entire language that will, in time, develop two additional senses of the human instrument. The genetic composition of the human species was conceived to have 7 senses. You have, in recent times, begun to refer to the 6th sense or the sense of intuition. There is a 7th and most powerful sense, and it is the sense that is linked to time-travel, which is linked to space travel." - the WingMakers, Project Overview Memo.

The WingMakers have encoded energetically behind their time capsules the key to unlock this 7th sense. They are inviting humanity to interact with these materials as a "bridge from the 3-dimensional 5 sensory domain to the multidimensional 7-sensory domain" - Dr. Anderson relaying the WingMakers, Interview 1

"This frequency of the tone-vibration of equality is only heard with the seventh sense by the entity who is enveloped in a human instrument. The seventh sense can be developed by the time capsules and will lead certain entities to their innermost or core expression. The core expression is what activates the seventh sense. Thus, before one can hear the tone-vibration of equality, they must gain access to their core expression. There is encoded in each of the time capsules, a system of languages that can lead the individual to their core expression. It is hidden because it is so powerful. And we will only lead the worthy to this power." - the WingMakers, Chamber 2 Philosophy: The Shifting Models of Existence

The alien AI collectives and corteum lack a soul and creative ability, and needed to trick a human—who has a soul and creative ability gifted by God—into assisting them in trying to replicate this 7th sense, a very powerful ability which they lack.

"One of the things that the Corteum have in abundance is logical intelligence. They are very adept in terms of scientific inquiry and logical reasoning. By their own admission, where they lack ability is in the creative visionary aspect of discovery. This is precisely where Fifteen excels..." - Dr. Anderson, Interview 2

The WingMakers used very deliberate terminology when speaking to Dr. Anderson about why they chose him to be their spokesperson rather than Fifteen; the word "pawn" is not used lightly, otherwise they would have simply stated that Fifteen would be unwilling or unable because he was simply working or preoccupied with the corteum.

"They visited me a total of three times—always in my home at night—and told me that I had been selected to be their liaison or spokesperson. Of course I asked them why me and not Fifteen, and they said that Fifteen was unable to speak for them because he was already the pawn of the Corteum" - Dr. Anderson, Interview 1

Fifteen is indeed the pawn of the corteum, and by proxy, the pawn of alien AI collectives behind the corteum. Fifteen—as you may read in the interviews—is the leader of the labyrinth group and ACIO. He joined the ACIO in 1956 and met the corteum in 1958. He then sold out to the corteum, took their intelligence boosting technology, and politically maneuvered a coup to take control of the ACIO for himself under corteum guidance and was "infused with a massive vision of how to create BST" - Dr.

Anderson, Interview 1

"Since you have the tape recorder on now, let me repeat myself. The Corteum technology was the single most influential element in helping Fifteen become the Executive Director of both the ACIO and the Labyrinth Group. Granted, he had a brilliant mind before he underwent the Corteum intelligence enhancement process, but for some reason, the technology seemed to enhance his intelligence more than anyone else... by a significant degree." - Dr. Anderson, Interview 2

Fifteen's higher intelligence boosting relative to other labyrinth group personnel is a deliberate ploy by the corteum to keep their manipulatable, prime pawn in charge of the ACIO and labyrinth group, so that they remain in control as his puppet masters.

Consenting to an intelligence boost from negative aliens is very dangerous, and the equivalent to selling your soul. Humans who consent to this fall into a controlled trap of delusion: their human ego's are now strategically flattered in grandiosity due to an advance in information processing power and memory (photographic, retention) while their reality perception becomes completely controlled to and limited by the will of the negative aliens who own the technology. The human has fallen into a trap of temptation, and now a mind-controlled slave puppeted by foreign, alien, non-human intelligence.

Humans who consent to this are either knowingly or unknowingly traitors to mankind, and the reason why negative aliens view earth humanity as easily manipulatable. It all comes down to consent. Generally, negative aliens are unable to infiltrate worlds by overt takeover because—thankfully—there are usually more advanced benevolent ET races (such as the WingMakers) who watch over and defend evolving worlds. Negative aliens are however, able to proxy infiltrate worlds by tempting human inhabitants to consentingly sell out to them in exchange for intelligence boosting and advanced black technology. The intelligence boosting provides a backdoor into the human will and psyche for the negative aliens to control remotely. The various black technologies 'gifted' to the human is then utilized by the human for power and sold for wealth. This is all a conquer -strategy for negative aliens infiltrating lesser evolved worlds. They now have a team of consenting, mind-controlled humans selling a trickle down of their black technology of various dilutes to strategically infiltrate the human society, all of which has backdoors to a master key held by the negative aliens themselves.

This is exactly what the labyrinth group has done by consenting to using corteum intelligence boosting technology and advancing the corteum TTP (Technology Transfer Program). The corteum TTP is currently behind all black technology on this planet, having provided most of it and having hijacked all of the other cabal's previous black tech.

This infiltration has actually happened to 70% of the US population (lower globally, around 50%), all gangstalkers, as you can read in my article "Cabal Silent Genocide"—to varying lower degrees under labyrinth apex control—by their consent to using wearables and grey hats using "looking glass" technology. "looking glass" and wearables are all diluted corteum TTP black technology with back doors leading to corteum master key control.

Since every labyrinth group member has used direct intelligence boosting technology from the corteum, and work directly under the corteum, they are all very mind-controlled. It is an unfortunate situation, because many (or at least some) in the labyrinth group are unaware that they are being used as proxies for this negative alien infiltration. They all have varying degrees of awareness into the reality of the situation, with their reality perception always being monitored by the corteum, ensuring that the corteum agenda of infiltration advances.

When ACIO personnel were interacting with the WingMakers materials and philosophy, many began to take a liking to it and found it to be truthful, compelling information. Fifteen, under corteum command, then began to erase the memories of these individuals for "losing objectivity". In reality, the ACIO personnel were not losing objectivity, but rather gaining objectivity in reality perception away from corteum mind-control. The higher truth within the WingMakers materials was acting as a call to reason, breaking the spell of corteum false, limiting, controlled reality perception.

2001 www.wingmakers.com Hijacking and Takeover

The labyrinth group has been operating in an 'invisible' pocket reality. The corteum advanced black technology they possess has given them unparalleled operating invisibility within, and apex power and wealth in the world society.

There was a reason why the WingMakers allowed for the Ancient Arrow site to be found by the labyrinth group. The labyrinth group possessed the linguistic know-how to be able to manually translate the WingMakers material. It is a lesson for humanity of light being present in even the darkest of places. It was a planned operation of the WingMakers to show an infiltration and defection of truth from the secrecy of the cabal into the public domain. It is funny because the WingMakers intentionally state in their introduction that their time capsules will be disclosed to the public through the Internet, as you can read in the "Project Overview" memo:

"Through their time travel technology they have planted time capsules from their future time, which they hope will provide a sense of connection to our future selves and an understanding of human destiny. They seem to be particularly interested in helping present-day humans build a global culture.

"One of their more outlandish claims is that they essentially seeded the concept of the Internet for the purpose of developing this global culture. They believe the Internet will somehow become the platform upon which their time capsules will be fully launched into the mainstream of the world's citizens."

The WingMakers did indeed seed the idea for the creation of the Internet for this world through the subconscious of earth humanity. Although the labyrinth group memo author Jeremy Sauters was unaware at the time he was writing it, the WingMakers were hinting at their planned defection of Dr. Anderson, disclosing the WingMakers information to Anne, which would eventually reach the public through the originally published www.wingmakers.com in December, 1998. Meta, huh? The WingMakers are time-travelers who instigated the revelation of their materials into the public domain via Dr. Anderson's defection, and are currently watching over this entire process.

"I was apparently selected to be their spokesperson in this time, and not only help translate their text, paintings, and symbol pictures, but also help in bringing these things to the public's attention. In other words, I don't think the WingMakers desired the contents of their time capsules to be held in a secret repository deep within the bowels of the Labyrinth Group." - Dr. Anderson, Interview 2

If the labyrinth group were not mind-controlled by the corteum, they would clearly understand it would be in their best interest to release the WingMakers materials, fully and untampered. Clearly the WingMakers are operating over their heads, as can be seen by their fulfilled prediction in the Project Overview memo. All WingMakers materials are a gift of cultural expression from the WingMakers meant to be freely and fully disclosed to humanity in the public domain untampered. This is the WingMakers' desire, and it will be accomplished wither the easy way or the hard way. As Dr. Anderson states:

"My reason for seeking out a journalist like you and sharing this knowledge is that I don't want the WingMakers' time capsules to be locked away from humanity. I think its contents should be shared. I think that was their purpose." - Interview 1

Unfortunately, the labyrinth group are very mind-controlled. They are all delusional puppets for their corteam handlers, completely out of touch with reality. They even thought they were the precursor organization to the WingMakers which could not be more false. The WingMakers achieved their interactive time-travel ability through natural spiritual and genetic transformation, not artificially through BST technology.

The labyrinth group have attempted to sabotage this disclosure from it's very inception. When Dr. Anderson defected, he was on the run. Although he plays it very cool in the interviews, Dr. Anderson had just defected from the highest level of cabal society on the planet, which was a very intense situation. He was being constantly harassed by the labyrinth group through remote viewing not to reveal too much information.

This is why he withheld information from Anne, and why he gave Anne information to withhold herself. This is why only 2 photos of the artifacts were released, rather than all 23, and why neither of the scientific papers were released, even though Dr. Anderson likely had photos of all 23 artifacts, and 2 scientific papers; full chambers had been successfully translated at the time of Dr. Anderson's defection.

This was information strategy against the labyrinth group, who were very upset with their organization being revealed and these materials being released. As Anne states in the "Project Briefing and Background"
